In ancient period, we had knowledge about the crimes arising out of greed (gold), lust (women) and land. But now such crimes have been relegated to the category of traditional crimes. In modern age newest crimes have appeared. These crimes are committed by persons belonging to the higher social status by beguiling people, practising fraud, misrepresentation, by adopting other known or unknown ways to amass money by fair or foul means. Such new crimes are termed "White Collar Crimes". White collar person commits this crime in relation to his business, as smuggling, corruption etc. The common people suffer more economic damages and harm by these modern crimes in comparison to the traditional crimes. These crimes are increasing day by day. Therefore, it is essential for penal law to extend it and to adopt a new approach extending to the extent of crime for facing this anti social behaviour.
